This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CORRECTION.

In sixth line of Preface for "Cliff-street" read "Fulton-street."

In 1826 the library was established in more spacious quarters in Cliff-street, near the site of the present Harper's establishment. This removal had a most beneficial effect upon the growth of the institution. Its progress was so rapid, that it soon became evident that still larger and more permanent accommodations were needed This necessity incited the members to make an appeal to the mercantile community for aid. Accordingly, a meeting of merchants and others was held, at which subscriptions were obtained to a large amount.

At the invitation of the officers of the library, their friends, who so generously had come to its assistance, formed themselves into a separate corporation, in order that the Mercantile Library Association should always enjoy the full benefit of the sum contributed for it, and at the same time a proper supervision be exercised by the donors in the appropriation of bounty. The results of this plan were the formation of the Clinton Hall Association, and the subjoined articles of agreement between the two bodies.

The site having been at once chosen, the present edifice was commenced. The corner-stone was laid, and the building formally dedicated to science and literature. The magnificent sum of $33,500, collected from the merchants, not being sufficient to defray the cost of the ground and building, a debt had to be incurred, which by the judicious management of the Board of Trustees has been nearly paid off, without, until lately, depriving the library of sufficient room in the building for its books.

When the Association assumed possession of the Hall, in the year 1830, it numbered 1,200 members and 6,000 volumes. Within the twenty years which have since elapsed, 12,000 young men have enrolled themselves among its members, and over 32,000 volumes have been purchased. It has been almost wholly self-sustained,

PREFACE.

THE MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF NEW-YORK was formed on the ninth of November, 1820. A few active and zealous young men, perceiving the necessity of a library for the use of merchants' clerks, after a public meeting held for the purpose of taking the matter into consideration, determined upon founding one, and united themselves for that object, under the name still retained by this institution.

A small apartment was hired at No. 49 Cliff-street, and subscriptions, as well as donations in books and money, were solicited. During the first five years this location sufficed for the wants of the library; but at the end of that time, the number of volumes obtained, mainly by donations, having reached 3,300, its removal was resolved upon.

In 1826 the library was established in more spacious quarters in Cliff-street, near the site of the present Harper's establishment. This removal had a most beneficial effect upon the growth of the institution. Its progress was so rapid, that it soon became evident that still larger and more permanent accommodations were needed This necessity incited the members to make an appeal to the mercantile community for aid. Accordingly, a meeting of merchants and others was held, at which subscriptions were obtained to a large amount.

At the invitation of the officers of the library, their friends, who so generously had come to its assistance, formed themselves into a separate corporation, in order that the Mercantile Library Association should always enjoy the full benefit of the sum contributed for it, and at the same time a proper supervision be exercised by the donors in the appropriation of bounty. The results of this plan were the formation of the Clinton Hall Association, and the subjoined articles of agreement between the two bodies.

The site having been at once chosen, the present edifice was commenced. The corner-stone was laid, and the building formally dedicated to science and literature. The magnificent sum of $33,500, collected from the merchants, not being sufficient to defray the cost of the ground and building, a debt had to be incurred, which by the judicious management of the Board of Trustees has been nearly paid off, without, until lately, depriving the library of sufficient room in the building for its books.

When the Association assumed possession of the Hall, in the year 1830, it numbered 1,200 members and 6,000 volumes. Within the twenty years which have since elapsed, 12,000 young men have enrolled themselves among its members, and over 32,000 volumes have been purchased. It has been almost wholly self-sustained, having received during the above space of time few donations of books, and none of money, until the present year, when by the munificent bequest of the late Miss E. Demilt, $3,000 were added to its funds.

The average amount annually invested in books since 1830, is $2,500. Total number of volumes added to the library since its formation is, - 38,718

Deduct books worn out and lost, - - - - 7,019

Leaving the present number, - - - 31,699 volumes.

The greater portion of those remaining are standard works, and the loss has been principally of the cheaper and more ephemeral class. During the last summer the delivery of books was suspended, and extraordinary efforts made to obtain the outstanding volumes. When all were received that were supposed to be attainable, the library was carefully counted, and 29,147 volumes were found upon the shelves.

Although the institution suffered somewhat from the effects of the commercial depression during the years 1839 to 1841, it passed in safety through them, and it is now steadily and daily advancing. Its subscription list is increasing; its library and reading-room are thronged by its members, and its lectures and classes are well attended. So great has been the growth in every department, that the present accommodations have become too restricted. This inconvenience, however, will be shortly remedied.

In adopting the plan of the present Catalogue, the compiler had chiefly in view ease and certainty of reference, and any alterations from former methods, which have been introduced, were made to secure this end. Perhaps it should be stated that many of its errors were necessarily owing to the continual circulation of the books. It is hoped, however, that it will be found such a key to the library as will enable its most inexperienced member to unlock its treasures.

He shall make a record of all books presented to the Association in a book provided for that purpose, with the names of the donors.

ART. 12. Every member may detain each book or set delivered aforesaid, if it be a folio or quarto, four weeks; an octavo, three weeks; or a book or a set of less size, two weeks; except new publications, which, until they shall have been in the Library two months, shall not be detained, an octavo longer than two weeks, and books of less size, one week; and which shall not be renewed. No book shall be reserved by the Librarian for any Director or member.

ART. 13. Any member who shall detain a book or set longer than the times above limited, respectively, shall forfeit and pay to the Librarian, for every day a volume is so detained, if it be a folio, four cents; a quarto, three cents; an octavo, two cents; if it be a duodecimo, or smaller volume, or a pamphlet, one cent; provided, always, if a whole set be taken out and a part of it detained longer than the time above limited, the fine shall be exacted for each book not returned; and if such book be detained one week beyond the time above limited, the forfeiture shall be doubled.

ART. 14. If any member lose or injure a book, he shall make the same good to the Librarian; and if the book lost or injured be one of a set, he shall pay the Librarian, for the use of the Association, the full value of said set, and may thereupon receive the remaining volumes as his property.

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT

BETWEEN

THE CLINTON HALL ASSOCIATION OF THE CITY OF NEW-YORK AND THE MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION OF NEW-YORK.

THIS AGREEMENT, between the Clinton Hall Association of the City of New-York, of the first part, and the Mercantile Library Association of New-York, of the second part, WITNESSETH:—

That the party of the first part, being the owner of a building called Clinton Hall, situate on the corner of Beekman and Nassau-streets, in the City of New-York, do hereby stipulate and agree with the party of the second part as follows:

1st. That the party of the second part may occupy, free of rent, two rooms in said building, which have been appropriated for a Library and Reading-Room; and may use, when not wanted by the party of the first part, the room called the Trustees' and Directors' Room; and may use also the Lecture-Hall for the general meetings of the Association, and for lectures to be delivered to its members, as often as twice in each week: which privileges shall be enjoyed under such terms and conditions as are hereinafter expressed, and for as long a time as they are fulfilled to the satisfaction of the party of the first part. Additional room for the Library and Reading-Room, and additional nights for the Lecture Hall, shall be set apart, if necessary, on the same conditions.

2d. That when the cost of erecting and fitting up said building, and the cost of the lots, with the accruing interest, shall have been paid, either by new subscriptions, by the rents of the building, or from any other source, the surplus funds arising from rents shall be laid out in such books, cabinets, or scientific apparatus as the party of the first part may deem proper; the said party reserving to itself the right to make earlier appropriations for those purposes. All such books, cabinets, or apparatus, shall continue to belong to the party of the first part, and shall be deposited in the building, and be used by the members of the Clinton Hall and Mercantile Library Associations, under such regulations as may be made by the parties of the first part for that purpose.

And the party of the second part doth hereby stipulate and agree with the party of the first part as follows:

1st. That its Library shall be deposited in the room or rooms of said building appropriated to receive it; that the room or rooms set apart as Reading-Rooms shall be used by its members for that purpose; and that the Lecture-Hall shall be used for the general meetings of the Association, and for the lectures which are delivered to its members.

2d. That during the continuance of this agreement it will pay the taxes on said building, if any are imposed; and will at its own cost keep the rooms it occupies, in full and complete repair, and defray such proportion of the expenses of lighting and warming the house as may be fair and equitable.

3d. That the whole income of the party of the second part, after defraying the necessary charges of the establishment (not including the expense of lectures), shall be annually invested in books, which shall be deposited in the Library with its other books, and the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association shall have access to the Library free of charge, under the same regulations as the members of the Mercantile Library Association are subjected to, without giving to such shareholders a right to vote in the elections of that Association.

4th. That in case the Trustees of the Clinton Hall Association shall be of opinion that the party of the second part shall convert the rooms it occupies in the said building to any purpose not intended by the party of the first part, or that the character of the Mercantile Library Association shall have become so changed that its usefulness shall have ceased, or that it shall have deposited immoral or irreligious books in its Library, and not removed them within twenty days after being advised to do so by the Trustees of the Clinton Hall Association, or that they shall have wilfully neglected or violated any of the stipulations contained in this agreement: then the said Trustees may call a meeting of the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association and the directors of the Mercantile Library Association, and lay before the meeting the facts, to show that either of those contingencies has occurred; and the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association, after a full consideration, may determine to resume the use and occupation of the rooms so appropriated, and the books, cabinets and apparatus, purchased by the party of the first part; and such determination shall be final and conclusive on the party of the second part, who shall thereupon surrender and give up the premises and the said books, cabinets, and apparatus to the party of the first part, and shall remove from said building after thirty days' notice of such determination.

5th. That the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association may attend the course of lectures which may be delivered to the Mercantile Library Association on the same terms as are enjoyed by its members.

In witness whereof, the said parties have respectively caused their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, and these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, the second day of November, one thousand eight hundred and thirty.
